PART A

READING COMPREHENSION (8 points)

A. Read the text and answer the following questions.

In the UK, social sites such as Bebo and MySpace have become extremely popular in recent years with more than two million visitors each month. The head teacher of a Kent girl's school has written a letter to parents to inform them about pupils' use of the teenage networking site. A 'social networking' website allows young people to built personal pages, with profiles and pictures, and communicate with friends, but recently some teachers have felt that there might be a danger for the girls.

Head teacher Linda Wybar said "we have been monitoring the way the girls were presenting themselves and we have realized that sometimes they give the wrong impression". According to Ms Wybar, some girls have put photographs of themselves in strappy tops and short skirts. In one case there is a girl who has given her home address.
